

Executive Director appointment

Imperial College Health Partners (ICHP) is looking to expand its Executive Director team.

In a world where the health and care sector has an ambition to improve outcomes for its population, but is facing increasing pressure from rising demand, reduced funding, technological and structural change, it can feel unprepared for the future as it fights fires today.

Our members and clients need a partner to help understand and manage complex change. At ICHP, we are uniquely placed to provide this support because of:

- Our approach to innovation – finding new ways to deliver change and solve problems
- Our smart use of data and insight – creating actionable insight to drive and underpin change
- Our connections and collaborative ethos – our unique position in the market to navigate and facilitate change.
- Our people and culture – diverse, committed, outcome focused experts to drive and deliver change

We have the necessary tools, expertise and capabilities required to support and manage complex change for our members and clients, unlocking the potential of innovation and transforming their ability to deliver a healthier population.

Our organisation has grown significantly over the past three years with a clear mission to improve healthcare through innovation and collaboration. We are value driven and focus on quality, impact, collaboration and courage in working with our members, industry and policy both in the UK and beyond.

You will be passionate about healthcare, excited by the values and mission of the organisation and comfortable with a constantly changing environment. You will have experience in consultancy and/or medicine and an interest in healthcare innovation including technology. You will have experience in leading teams and work with very senior stakeholders and clients successfully.

The role will oversee and lead a range of projects and teams both customer and external partner facing including industry.

Success of the role will mean that ICHP continues to deliver demonstrable impact, and receive outstanding customer feedback, retains a motivated team, delivers value to its partners and beyond in accordance with our mission and is financially sustainable. You will achieve this by working seamlessly with the senior team and actively helping to shape the organisation at all levels.

If you are interested, please contact
axel.heitmueller@imperialcollegehealthpartners.com

We look forward to hearing from you.